Money Management Tip

- ▶ People's feelings often influence their financial choices more than rational thinking (Andrew Perry, Psychology of Money) - pride, comfort, security, shame, guilt, anxiety
- ▶ Know your psychological relationship with money
 - ▶ Denial - psychologically minimize money problems so you avoid addressing financial matters
 - ▶ Guilt - feeling guilty for having money accrued/saved
 - ▶ Money-worshipping
 - ▶ Hoarding - stuff or money
 - ▶ Compulsive Buying
 - ▶ Childhood and other experiences influence our psychological relationship with money

19

Small Group Discussion

- ▶ How does your upbringing influence your financial behaviors?
- ▶ How would you describe your parents' relationship with money?
- ▶ Did your family talk about money matters while you were growing up? If yes, give examples.

Closing Thoughts

- ▶ Work hard at your studies, but balance it with time with friends and family, time with nature, time in solitude, etc.
- ▶ Time management is key - see learning aids in Modules of Canvas for a blank schedule that may help you plan your study/fun/food times.
